FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SHERYL HARRIS JOINS BROWN COLLEGE AS HEALTH INFORMATION TECHNICIAN PROGRAM CHAIR

MINNEAPOLIS (April 13, 2010) – Brown College has announced the appointment of Sheryl Harris as its health information technician chair. In her role, Harris will be responsible for the oversight of the health information technician department, including instructors, student assistants, curriculum, retention, enforcement of policies and procedures, scheduling of classes and accreditation standards in order to maintain quality education that meets state and federal requirements and company guidelines.

Harris has more than 25 years experience in the healthcare and education field, most recently with the University of Minnesota Physician's/Minnesota Heart Clinic and the North Point Health and Wellness Center.

“The depth of Ms. Harris’ expertise will be of great benefit to students seeking careers in this growing healthcare field,” said William Cowan, president of the campus. “We believe that under her direction the health information technician program will be a leading program of its kind in the Twin Cities.”

The health information technician program is designed to prepare students for a career in a variety of healthcare settings including medical offices, hospitals, clinics and skilled-care facilities. It is offered during day and evening sessions and can be completed in as little as 70 weeks. The program is offered for both full-time and part-time students.
