GRANT THORNTON DONATES TIME TO ROADRUNNER FOOD BANK IN AUGUST

The Albuquerque office of Grant Thornton LLP, the U.S. member firm of Grant Thornton International, helped ring in the holidays by giving back this year as several members of its team donated time at the Roadrunner Food Bank on December 23, 2009.

This initiative is one of the many community outreach programs supported through Grant Thornton C.A.R.E.S. (Community Awareness and Responsibility Expressed through Service), a program created by Grant Thornton designed to demonstrate leadership not only in its industry, but also in its community. Through the program, employees contribute time, money and expertise to local civic organizations, charities, universities and professional associations. In addition to volunteer hours, the Albuquerque office recently raised 300 food items, $610 and donated 34 volunteer hours to the food bank to help fight hunger in the area. The office is also actively involved in the Chamber of Commerce Albuquerque Reads program to help children learn to read as well as supporting Cuidando Los Niños, which provides aid to homeless children and their families, and the United Way.
